NEW BOYS ON THE RANCH

It's a big world for young golfers at the Centre ranch, aren't quite ready to leave the protection of a big, old tree. With the spring season in full swing, golfers, coaches, and others of the younger generation are in the annual kingdom.

Government To Get Slice Of Sunken Treasure?

LOUISBOURG, N.S. (CP)—The question was still being considered Tuesday more than 24 hours after Harvey Mackintosh, 25, Alex Brown and Dave MacLachlan, both 29, broke a seven-month secret that they had recovered thousands of francs from the submerged wreckage of the 18th-century French ship Le Chateau.

Provincial Secretary Gerald Doherty told the Nova Scotia legislature Tuesday that when the three Louisbourg divers were given a license to search off this eastern Cape Breton port for the French treasure it was agreed 10 per cent of any treasure recovered would go to the province.

However, he said, "this is a complex and involved subject" and it was "not inconceivable that the Crown may not have any rights on it whatever."

Crucial ECM Farm Issue May Be Nearing Settlement

BRUSSELS (Reuters)—West German farmers said Tuesday night that a May 10 deadline has been set for the European Community's crucial issue of farm financing.

Luxembourg Premier Pierre Werner, chairman of the six-nation committee of ministers, said Tuesday night that a May 10 deadline has been set for the European Community's crucial issue of farm financing.

Rocket Shot Again Delayed

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Winds today forced the third postponement of an attempt to launch an Atlas-Centaur rocket on a vital test flight.

The shot was rescheduled for 12:05 a.m. EST Thursday. The postponement was the eighth in nine days here for a pair of space rockets. Tuesday, an effort to launch an orbiting astronomical observatory around an Atlas-Agena was delayed for a fifth time when an electronic sensing system detected pressure switch trouble and ordered the engines to shut down after ignition started.

The countdown on the Atlas-Centaur, whose goal is the first double ignition of a hydrogen engine in space, was halted at 90 minutes Tuesday night when the potentially dangerous high winds were detected. (C-E) above Cape Kennedy.

THE RED KEEPS ROLLING

'Clear These Towns By Tonight'

WINNIPEG (CP)—About 2,800 persons left their homes in three southern Manitoba communities today, seeking safety from the increasing flood menace of the Red River.

Full-scale evacuation has been ordered for Morris, St. Jean Baptiste and Emerson.

"I ask that you clear these towns by tonight," Premier Duff Roblin said in a radio-television broadcast. "We must not take a chance with human life."

TURMOIL IN THE PANTS PLANT AS HEMLINE GETS SHORTER

CARLETON PLACE, England (AP)—When Kathleen Barker, a 15-year-old who sews pockets on the pants, shortened her skirts four inches above her knees in line with current fashion, she also topped the skirt with a tight sweater.

Cabinet Faces A Problem While 15 Men Await Noose

OTTAWA (CP)—The Liberal cabinet was left to ponder the fate of 15 men having execution when the Commons Tuesday night defeated the resolution to abolish capital punishment.

Plenty Of Talk Over Greek Ship

SAIGON (AP)—Ten thousand South Vietnamese demonstrated peacefully against U.S. President Lyndon B. Johnson today, but they said they were confident his military junta could find a peaceful solution to the crisis threatening it.

Will Continue The Fight

Pledging himself to resume the fight immediately, he urged the government to fail for all offences.

Sooner Or Later, A War Chinese Paper Tells Millions

PEKING (Reuters)—China told its people today to prepare for war sooner or later with the United States—perhaps within a year or two.

Thousands March In Protest But Premier Ky Is Confident

LONDON (AP)—An international war of words continued today over a Greek tanker which the British government fears may unload 18,000 tons of oil for Rhodesia in Portuguese Mozambique.

Service Cuts On CNR Lines?

QUEBEC (CP)—Jean Richer, CNR vice-president in charge of passenger sales and service, said today the railway's passenger service "will seek to return to areas that are well served by other modes of transportation and where the running of passenger trains is uneconomical."

Police, Troops At The Gate

LORMAN, Miss. (AP)—A shield of national guardsmen and state troopers defended the gates today at Alcorn A. and M. College, where tear gas clouds choked 2,000 angry demonstrators into retreat during the night.

War Effort Threatened By Unrest In Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Four weeks of and monopolize girls, bars and entertainment. Finally there are the ruling generals who must among themselves for power in the military junta just as they have done since the fall of Ngo Dinh Diem. In this struggle for power, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky fired Lt. Gen. Nguyen Chanh Thi, commander of the 1st corps. That precipitated the present crisis.

Within days of this ouster, rioting began in Hue and Da Nang. Ky was forced to return to the northern sector.

By firing Thi, Premier Ky exposed a crack in the junta. This gave the opposition an opening.

Persecute thousands of the population is arrested and war-torn after years of conflict. They leave a political leadership to others.

Persecute most significant has been the appearance of South Vietnamese soldiers and civil servants among the demonstrators in Da Nang. Widespread defections by soldiers and officials could destroy the entire war effort.

A Spring '66 PLUSH CARPETS

Hawthorn Hard Twist

This is a hard twist broadloom, one of the most popular carpet textures, made with Acrlan, the carpet fibre of superior performance. Together these features provide a compact yet resilient surface that will be very resistant to traffic marks and crushing. The sturdy construction and a good pile weight mean durability and value. Acrlan pile yarn is mothproof, very soft and stain resistant, easy to clean, and specially processed to hold its texture. Hawthorn will stay new looking longer, with less care. Now in a range of fifteen colors. . . Sq. yd. 13.95

Kingsport Random Shear Texture

A new broadloom with an interesting loop pile design given a random shear processing for extra appeal. Performance will match appeal, too, because it's made with Acrlan, the carpet fibre of superior performance. Durable, resilient, mothproof, non-allergenic, mildew proof, colorfast, remarkably cleanable, easy to care for. Twelve exciting colors for a choice to suit. . . Sq. yd. 11.95

Duet Textured Loop

A two-tone broadloom in loop texture, made with Acrlan. Designed particularly for motel and hotel guest rooms, private offices, and suitable as well for areas of moderate traffic — within the home. Duet represents a remarkable value in styling and performance at surprisingly reasonable cost. Exclusive to Harding Distributors and available through Distributor. . . Sq. yd. 9.95

AROUND B.C. Pilot Safe After Crash

ABBOTSFORD (CP) — Les Kerr, 31, pilot of a Grumman Avenger water-bomber, escaped injury Tuesday when the plane made a belly landing at the Abbotsford airport. The plane's undercarriage retracted during takeoff, an official said.

MAYOR FAIR

VICTORIA (CP) — Mayor Peter Maffeo of Nanaimo, who suffered a fractured skull when he fell to the ice during a curling match March 27, was transferred Tuesday to hospital in Victoria. The mayor's condition was described as "fair" following an operation at hospital in Nanaimo.

BALANCE BUDGET

VANCOUVER (CP) — Civic officials here have recommended that $110,000 in available revenues be used for city projects rather than a general tax reduction. The officials said Tuesday they have been able to balance the city's 1966 general budget at a record $53,900,000 using the same mill rate as last year — 41 mills — without raising the amount to $110,000.

BESTOW DEGREES

MILNOR (CP) — Education Minister Peterson will receive an honorary doctorate in education from the University of British Columbia here May 1. Also receiving an honorary degree will be Rev. R. J. G. Kerwin, a professor of theology and ancient classics at NDU.

HAIR CUT

VANCOUVER (CP) — David Speers, a school student here, was banned from class until he got his hair cut. Speers, 15, is back in school — minus the curls. He said he made the decision to have his hair cut "since the weather is getting warmer."

TENDERS CALLED

VANCOUVER (CP) — Capt. H. J. C. Terry, president of the Pacific National Exhibition here, said Tuesday tenders will be called for the construction of the city's $4,000,000 arena.

Little Loss Of Prestige Over Viet Nam Inaction

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — As Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg sees it, neither U.S. nor UN prestige has been diminished by United Nations failure thus far to play an active role in promoting a peaceful settlement in Viet Nam.

Largely due to opposition by the Soviet Union and France, the UN Security Council has not even debated formally a U.S. request that the council call for a peace conference based on the 1954 Geneva agreements.

With some fanfare the United States brought the issue before the council early in February.

Industry Has The Message On U.S. Automobile Safety

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. auto industry has told Congress it has "got the message" about auto safety and, if given a chance, will develop a voluntary co-operative safety program geared to producing significant results within a year.

But John Bugas, secretary for the industry at a Senate committee hearing Tuesday, said the industry would not be willing to Congress to let the industry show what it could do before government standards are imposed.

Bugas, vice-president of Ford Motor Co. and chairman of the safety administration committee of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, said he supports most of President Johnson's highway safety program and added that "if we haven't got the message of safety before we've got it now—believe me."

The car makers have been under increasing fire from critics who contend that not enough stress has been put on safety in designing automobiles.

QUESTIONS ON MAN Senator Warren Hearnes, Indiana Democrat, questioned George Russell, a General Motors executive who attended the hearing with Bugas, about GM's request that owners of 1964-65 Chevelles and 1965 Chevrolts return the cars to their dealers for adjustment.

Russell said the company announced last week in Detroit it would install splash guards over the throttle linkage to prevent possible sticking of the accelerator. The free service is being provided because five cases of sticking accelerators were reported.

Bugas added that all the motor companies have a policy of acting quickly to correct any defect they discover that might even remotely endanger life or limb.

Under the industry's safety program a motor vehicle safety board would be responsible for establishment, adoption and progressive strengthening of safety performance standards on an industrywide basis.

The board would have a chairman from outside the industry who would be nominated by the industry subject to approval by the commerce secretary.

PICK CANDIDATE

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Patrick Denton, 34, has been named to contest the Fort George constituency seat for the New Democratic Party in the next provincial election. Mr. Denton, a radio and television news announcer, was chosen at the constituency convention Tuesday night.

What the U.S. would like to see eventually in Viet Nam is a settlement achieved by the international community — preferably the UN. But at the moment that is far off.

Against this background Goldberg said in answering questions from a reporter this week:

"As far as the United States is concerned, it has gained in terms of world opinion by demonstrating its willingness to submit the whole matter to UN jurisdiction."

"As for the United Nations, I believe the world is getting more sophisticated than we generally recognize. It is realized that the United Nations cannot act when two great powers who are members are unwilling to act. The fault is not that of the United Nations, but of the members who have taken a stand against UN action."

France said it was interested in a peaceful solution in Viet Nam but contended that a council debate would not bring a solution closer. The Soviet Union declared the matter should not be settled by the United Nations but under the 1954 Geneva accords.

ROTARY PARK WORK COMMENDED

The Kelowna Rotary Club has put $500 into the park and building a wooden path on Lakeside Rd. and three-quarter mile south of the city limits. Major R. F. Parkinson commended Rotary for its work at Monday's council meeting. W. J. Ballman said it is possible Rotary will take over maintenance of the beach park and put up to $50,000 in its development within the next three years. The Chamber of Commerce had the land classified as a class C park in 1961 but did not have any money for development.

Walk In Museum Historical Journey

By ALICE KAMMINGA

Dan Riley knows the Kelowna Museum well. As curator there for the past two years, he has accumulated a vast knowledge of the exhibits and history of the Valley.

The building, he said, was originally a lodge built by the D. Maria family. The logs were hand selected and brought from the nearby area.

Not until 10 years ago was the building made into a museum. It was built in 1935.

Ray Roberts started a collection of museum pieces in Kelowna many years ago. Mr. Riley said they housed exhibits in a barn donated by the Lloyd Jones family.

MOVED LATER

The museum site was moved several years later to a building that stood near the current site of Okanagan College.

The Kelowna Museum and Archives Association rented the building used today from the city about 10 years ago.

Mr. Riley took over as curator after the retirement of W. R. Walrod.

The most prized possession, he said, is the Harvey collection of birds. There are 206 birds in the collection, taking in every species found in the Okanagan.

The birds were being rented by the museum but negotiations were completed in December to purchase the complete set.

Another valued collection is the military section. Mr. Riley said it comprises with the collection of badges, medals and souvenirs to children and is possibly second only to the collection in Kingston, Ont.

Every man or boy who has left to serve in a military unit from the Okanagan can be rewarded of his military days by this collection.

A whopper crane and a 1901 automobile owned by William Lloyd Jones are two other prize pieces on exhibit. Also on display is an almost complete set of photographs of early vessels that used Okanagan Lake.

Photographs of early days in the Valley can also be viewed.

ANIMALS POPULAR

The most interesting exhibits from the children's viewpoint, Mr. Riley said, are the scorpion and the Kodiak bear and the two-headed calf.

The scorpion was "delivered" to the Okanagan with a shipment of tropical fruit.

The bear weighs more than 1,500 pounds and can be found only on the Kodiak Islands near Alaska.

The two-headed calf draws its interest from the fact the animal did have two heads, complete and well-formed heads.

TOOTH DECAY MODERN EVIL

Dr. Gray said the first break of modern civilization, Dr. Alan Gray, regional dental consultant, followed by the use of the South Okanagan Health Unit, told Rotarians Tuesday.

Dr. Gray was guest speaker at the regular weekly luncheon meeting.

He said modern diets are becoming more synthetic and sweeter. He recommended a visit to the dentist every six months.

Until recently, the only cure for decay was extraction, which in Elizabethan times was done by barbers as a sideline. The first school of dentistry was in the U.S. in 1810.

Excavations have begun for the head office of Fruit Growers Mutual Insurance Company, on Ellis St., opposite the regional library. Estimated cost is $140,000 for the one-story, 7,000 square foot building with a two-story front.

With good weather on the scene, tourists have started to arrive in the Okanagan. Many of them have been seen but one couple came up with what must be a first Friday. They arrived all the way from Texas.

There is a court reporter in the county of Yale who apparently doesn't do his job in the spirit. A Howard-old witness said in a Kelowna courtroom recently that prior to the accident he had been playing with a child in the back seat of the car. At the first recess, army badge collecting, brought the court reporter, a man of him 20 additions to his collection, years of experience, approached the youth and asked the item.

One piece of literature obviously not on exhibit but perhaps the most symbolic was a poster announcing this year's Kelowna International Regatta. It will be the last Regatta for the current site of the museum.

The new centennial museum is due to be completed next spring in time for Canada's centennial.

The old building will be returned to the city and may be used as an office building for the city parks board.

Mr. Riley will also be leaving the old museum because of retirement.

Perhaps it is most fitting the old museum and service together.

Gyros Raise Park Money

The Kelowna Gyro Club collected about $2,000 for community services from a $25-a-plate dinner Tuesday.

Lyle Senger, president of the club, said today the dinner was a tremendous success and the money will be used for improvements to Gyro Park on Lakeshore Rd.

He said although 200 tickets were sold for the dinner, only about 100 people attended.

"Many people bought tickets simply to support us," he said, "and, of course, to get a chance at a $1,000 prize in a raffle."

Winner of the money was Stuart Gilmore, Westbank.

Sunny Skies Are Forecast

More sunny skies and balmy temperatures are forecast for the Okanagan, Lillooet and South Thompson regions.

Low tonight and high Thursday at Pentlicton, 28 and 68; Kamloops, 30 and 70; Lytton, 35 and 75; Cranbrook, 25 and 63 and Revelstoke, 30 and 60.

In the Cariboo, Prince George and Bulkley Valley regions it should be mainly sunny today and Thursday but a little cooler.

Winds should be light, except north 15 in main valleys.

Low tonight and high Thursday at Williams Lake, Quesnel, and Prince George, 25 and 58 and at Smithers, 25 and 55.

High and low temperatures in Kelowna Tuesday were 66 and 31. In 1965, 61 and 39 were recorded, with .04 inches of rain.

City Father Changes Mind

A Kelowna man was told in magistrate's court today his request to have a charge against his son withdrawn was a prime example of "the boy who called wolf."

Albert Klingsson, Kelowna, laid a charge against his son, Gary, for stealing nine cheque blanks. Today, both appeared in court and the father asked that the charge be withdrawn.

The police prosecutor told Mr. Klingsson his request had caused the police and court much work and in the future any time he contacts the police office to lay a charge, his request will be given "a most critical eye."

Magistrate D. M. White said while he was reluctant to withdraw the charge under the circumstances, he would allow it to be dropped.

Parent Group Meeting Soon

The B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation convention will be held in Kelowna April 12-15 at the Kelowna Secondary School.

Bernard Webber, director of secondary education for the Vernon school district, will give the main address of the opening session, entitled "Our Place in Education."

Wednesday afternoon there is a panel discussion, headed by Mrs. B. J. Zelmer, of Vancouver.

Guest speaker at a banquet April 14 is L. R. Peterson, minister of education.

Senior Residents' Conditions Poor?

DONALD ABEL

Indian's Case Sent To Trial

Donald Abel, 19, of Westbank has been committed to stand in Westbank and at a home in Kelowna on a charge of non-capital murder. He is accused of shooting his son, Fritz Joseph, 32, on the Westbank reserve Feb. 6.

The preliminary hearing which opened Monday before Magistrate D. S. Demoreux continued in the provincial building Tuesday.

Witnesses Tuesday were Moses Atch, Allen James Atch and Const. R. J. Grunert.

Magistrate Demoreux declared Moses an adverse witness and allowed him to be cross-examined. A statement he made previously was read to him.

ALL WRONG?

Before the statement was read he said it was all wrong. He was sick and had a shot pellet as having been removed from the chest cavity of Fritz Abel.

The case will go to the Supreme Court, probably at the fall sittings in Vernon.

Alderman And Clergyman Voice Different Opinions

A Kelowna alderman and a clergyman have different views on the city's senior citizens.

People who give up their homes because they cannot take care of them can move to an apartment if they can afford it, or move into the Lloyd-Jones Home, which is a wonderful place but it is not for everyone, says Alderman D. S. Catchpole.

These conflicting opinions were expressed at a meeting Tuesday on the problems of aging sponsored by the city welfare department.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Clare McAllister, assistant professor, school of social work, University of British Columbia.

The meeting was attended by 40 people, representatives of churches, organizations, senior citizens, mental and welfare groups and the city.

PLEASED HERE

Mrs. McAllister said she was pleased to see Kelowna had some of the best senior housing programs in the world. She suggested people attending the meeting get together and pool their wisdom to see what more can be done.

Ald. Peterson said the biggest problem in this community is lack of chronic care services but that in two or three years the top floor of the new hospital would provide these facilities. He said the recreation building for senior citizens was not large enough.

NEEDS LISTED

Verne Wertz of the Central Okanagan Regional Planning Board said Kelowna has such a large percentage of its population over 45 there may be a need for a large centre, offering a variety of services, including sauna baths, under one roof or close.

E. R. Winter suggested senior citizens raise a part of the funds necessary for a larger recreation centre and then approach the city council. He said there must be 2,000 senior citizens in Kelowna who could donate from $1 to $500 each, for such a project.

NEVER ESCAPE

Mr. Catchpole said there are some elderly people housed on second floors, three completely immobile, and God help them if there was a fire, they would never get out.

He said conditions for the elderly had improved in Kelowna in the last few years, but for all ages.

BEATLE MUSIC HARD TO TAKE

A pilot program to visit those who are lonely and without visitors, was launched by Dr. Heta Willis, Beatrice Jones, health centre consultant physiotherapist, said a program of exercises to make the elderly more mobile is under way in their stride.

Mrs. McAllister suggested if the homemaker service was extended to assist the elderly, more of them might continue to live in their homes and reduce the cost of building other facilities and help the elderly remain independent.

SURVEY TAKEN

She suggested that those who were lonely might benefit from counselling services.

Mrs. McAllister spoke of a Canadian conference on aging which she attended in Toronto in January. She said some centres had made a survey to see what the needs of their community were.

Some problems of the aging are brought about by increasing life spans, changes in life habits from active to retirement, lower incomes, status, usefulness problems, health, housing and leisure time worries.

She said one solution was being carried out in a Montreal project, where day care was provided for the elderly. The members of the Kelowna Golf and Country Club, The Stag Nite, an elderly can be trained for use of a typewriter, and need for an agreement of future needs, with indications of a larger percentage of senior citizens and more requiring mental health services.

Community Services Book Now Available To Public

Copies are on sale at the Okanagan Regional Library of a 47-page directory of community services, compiled by the University Women's Club of Kelowna.

Under the direction of Mrs. E. H. Birdsell, members began 18 months ago to gather information.

They had two objectives in mind—to assist people who had services to offer to make their services known to the public and to help those who were looking for services learn where to locate them.

LISTS MANY

The directory lists services available by category—education, health, recreation and welfare, in the area from Oyama to Peachland.

The directory lists organizations, service clubs, women's groups and church groups and whether they offer services to youth, adults or senior citizens.

A questionnaire was sent to each group and information in the directory is from the organizations. City and provincial welfare departments assisted by providing information.

Mrs. Birdsell said Mrs. B. B. Emme, acting as secretary, and Mrs. T. F. McWilliams provided names of many groups.

FOR EDUCATORS

The board of School District 23 has ordered 60 copies for distribution to staff, principals, teachers and others. A complimentary copy was presented to city council.

Mrs. Birdsell said she believes it is the first time such a comprehensive directory has been compiled outside of large cities in B.C.

The mimeographed sheets were arranged by trainees at the Sunnyside Sheltered Workshop for retarded. Copies of the directory are also available by writing to Community Information Services, Box 307, Kelowna.

Police Check Six Juveniles

Two Kelowna juveniles were arrested and six questioned in connection with eight recent break-ins in Kelowna and district, RCMP said today.

The six were questioned in connection with the cutting of a rope surrounding a logging boom on the east side of Okanagan Lake during the weekend, causing logs to drift. Police said the boys were using the 200 feet of rope to make swings.

Three of the six were questioned in connection with the break-in of a summer cottage north of Poplar Point and one was charged.

Another juvenile was arrested in connection with eight break-ins in the city and district, seven within the last week and one in March.

Neil Halliday, principal of the Okanagan Mission School, reported someone entered the building sometime Monday night by breaking a window. Nothing was found missing.

Wrong Duct For Hot Air

The Kelowna Fire Brigade answered a call to the S and S Stores on Pandosy St., today at 9:35 a.m., where warm air was coming from cold air ducts. The problem was a mechanical one, a fireman said. No damage resulted.

Monday at 5:45 p.m. firemen extinguished a grass fire on Dilworth Mountain, where an area of 300 square feet was involved. Cause is not known and damage was slight.

Parent Group Meeting Soon

The B.C. Parent-Teacher Federation convention will be held in Kelowna April 12-15 at the Kelowna Secondary School.

Bernard Webber, director of secondary education for the Vernon school district, will give the main address of the opening session, entitled "Our Place in Education."

Wednesday afternoon there is a panel discussion, headed by Mrs. B. J. Zelmer, of Vancouver.

Guest speaker at a banquet April 14 is L. R. Peterson, minister of education.

OLD SIDEWALKS BEING REPLACED

Edward Kisilanko, of the City of Kelowna, watches as a "coon" drops mysteriously out of the sky to tear up the sidewalk on Ellis St., between Doyle Ave. and Queenway. Actually, the shovel is part of a ditcher being used to re-side the old asphalt of the sidewalk so it can be replaced.

KNUDSON TO AUGUSTA

George Knudson who quit the golf tour two weeks ago because "I was mentally exhausted after 19 straight weeks of it," returns this weekend convinced that, for the first time in 14 months, he won't have to worry about a frustrating hand injury. His destination is the prestigious Masters at Augusta National and regardless of how well he plays, he intends to take another three-week vacation after it. Knudson, playing pro at Oakdale, is the only Canadian invited to the Masters this year. His left hand has been a continuing concern to Knudson since he damaged ligaments in the thumb, then encountered problems with nerve endings in the back of the same hand.

Many Favorites For Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, who will be trying for an unprecedented second straight Masters victory, scoffs at claims he has the golfing plum all wrapped up.

"That's a lot of baloney," Nicklaus said before a final tuneup for Thursday's start of the 72-hole grand over the Augusta National course.

"A lot of golfers can win this thing," he said. "A couple of bad breaks can run you. Most of the time this tournament is just not won."

He predicted that a score of 278 would be good enough to take the title. That is seven strokes above the record set last year by Nicklaus, who fired rounds of 67-71-64-69 in one of golf's most dazzling exhibitions. Nicklaus, who also won the 1963 Masters, conceded that the hilly, 6,900-yard course is long enough to eliminate some of the 104-man field.

He doesn't think, however, that Doug Sanders, hottest player on the 1966 tour with three triumphs, is out of the running because he isn't a long driver.

"Doug hits the ball as far as Gary Player and Player's record speaks for itself," said Nicklaus. "If you look in the records, you'll find most of the winners of the Masters weren't long hitters."

Nicklaus signaled out Arnold Palmer and Player—the other members of the Big Three that has won every Masters crown since 1960—as his leading rivals. As an afterthought, he tossed in the names of Sanders and Bruce Devan, the lanky Australian who collected $67,000 on the tour last year without winning a tournament.

Bad Cheques Have Cassius On Way To Jail

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cassius Clay, who boasts of the money he makes as heavyweight boxing champion, has until 5:30 p.m. Thursday to come up with $26,250 or go to jail for 30 days.

He was found in contempt of court Tuesday after he failed to show up in court to pay at least $10,000 on the money he owes his 10th ex-wife Beulah. At first Clay's lawyer had told Judge, he had two bad cheques for part of the money Clay owes—$22,500 in fees and $3,500 for two months' alimony.

One of the cheques was written on Islam Temple 2 in Chicago, a centre of Clay's Black Muslim sect.

"We are tired of accepting such a cheque," said Lawrence Hoffman, one of Judge's lawyers.

"You bet we are," said Leonard McMillen, the other "Cassius" already landed one on her for $1,250. We're not taking any cheques signed by Omar Khayyam or somebody."

So they went to court.

Hoffman said Judge Harold Black "He (Clay) didn't show up for this hearing. That is the contemptuous part. If he had come in with only a $5,000 cheque, I would not have issued the order."

Two deputy sheriffs were already on the road with an arrest warrant when Clay's lawyer showed up with a compromise with the judge and Judge's lawyer.

The compromise gave Clay until Thursday to pay $24,250, $22,500 for his lawyers, $1,000 for the expense of two hearings at which Clay did not show up, $2,500 to cover the first two months' alimony and $250 for Judge's expenses in getting to the hearing.

Clay's lawyer said Clay would get the money.

Clay said two months ago that he makes enough money to buy six jet planes. Although this was deemed a bit of an exaggeration, the court record showed he made $150,000 in 1963.

Lois Matsuda: Lois is in her seventh year of bowling and has on five occasions been a member of the Western Canada team. Lou Matsuda: Lou is one of the best bowlers on the team and will help Kelowna's chances of winning.

Bruce Bennett and Gary Fortney are in their third year of bowling. Neither man has been on a Kelowna team in the past but judging by their bowling this year they have a spot on the team for a few years to come. Gary was a pleasant surprise at the B.C. relays in Chilliwack and Bruce, a great bowler of team spirit, has been bowling some good games of late and will do his share for the team.

Lorenz Broder and Dirk Goyette are the two other first year members on the team. Dirk has the ability to rack up the good games and should make a contribution to the Kelowna team. Lorenz is in his fourth year of bowling and always willing to do his best to boost the spirit of his fellow teammates.

All in all Kelowna has a good chance to win a few trophies and one thing sure the Kelowna bowlers will be trying all the time.

Seals Eyeing Playoff Spot

VANCOUVER (CP) — San Francisco Seals inched to within one point of the fourth and final playoff spot in the Western Hockey League with an easy 4-0 win over Vancouver Canucks here Tuesday night.

The victory gave the Seals 62 points — one back of Seattle Totems — and kept the Canucks from clinching third spot in the league and ensuring themselves a playoff berth.

Defenceman Gerry Osowski led the Seal attack with two goals while Wayne Connolly, with his third goal of the season, and playing-coach Charlie Burns added single markers.

San Francisco netminder Joe Daley was brilliant in recording the shutout, turning aside 35 shots—16 of them in the final period.

Daley stopped Canucks' Billy McNeill from gaining on Cliff Schmautz of Portland, who leads the WHL scoring race with 100 points. McNeill has 99.

Seals barged in two goals in each of the first two periods, then held off a continual challenge by the Canucks in the final stanza.

Toronto's Success In Montreal Shouldn't Bother Habs: Blake

MONTREAL (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs, who triumphed in their first National Hockey League playoff game, had a better than 500 average against Canadiens but Montreal coach Toe Blake doesn't see this competition continuing into the playoffs.

Canadiens, who earned $2,250 per man for this year's first-place finish, won five straight in a stretch drive that culminated in an 8-3 rout of second-place Chicago Black Hawks here last Saturday night.

The win brought them the league title for the eighth time in 11 seasons under Blake's direction.

Blake feels the club will repeat last season's win over the Leafs in the semi-final round of the Stanley Cup playoffs which get under way here Thursday night.

Playing Nights Problem To District Softball Ass'n

Amid much talkover the annual meeting of the Kelowna and District Softball Association did accomplish some notable things.

With the softball league using lights for the first time, the executive expressed hope for a good season. The executive plans to build concession stands and toilet facilities and next year are looking for a new grandstand, preferably covered.

The association will be holding a top-flight tournament in 1967. The meeting decided the tournament would be held either during the Regatta or during an special Centennial week of activities. They hope to draw teams from Kamloops, Trail and the Coast.

A move to name an all-star team each year was defeated by a vote of 6-2. The motion was replaced with a motion that Kelowna's representative to the B.C. playoffs would be the winner of the league playoffs.

If Kelowna has two representatives, the pennant winner will be the second representative.

After two hours of discussion the naming of playing nights was tabled to an executive meeting. The league decided that there would be no games at King's Stadium under the lights, on Mondays and Wednesdays. Either Saturday or Sunday will be the other night. Saturday night games will be scheduled when the Leafs do not have home games at Elias Stadium.

Bill Robson was re-elected president of the league. Bill originally declined to accept the position because of business pressures but the other members of the executive agreed to take on more work and Robson withdrew his resignation. Wally Senn was re-elected vice-president and Don Schmitt was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Directors named from the teams were: Carings, Len Schmitt and Jack Lear. Royals, Dick Jones and Al Hovung. Redskins, Henry Sengman and Fred Rogers. Wolves, Peter Wamger and one to be named at a later date.

Playoff rounds were left the same with both the semi-finals and finals being five-game series.

Don And Sandy Not So Dandy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Don Drysdale and Sandy Koufax, pitchers for more than a month made their exhibition debut for Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday, but San Francisco Giant pitcher strolled the fun.

Jim Ray Hart tagged two home runs and drove in four runs as the Giants routed Dodgers 1-2. San Francisco played Drysdale for five hits and four runs in the first three innings including a three-run shot by Hart.

Koufax surrendered five hits and two runs in the middle three innings, with Tom Hatcher connecting for a bases empty homer.

Critics Class Nguyen Ky As Tool Of Americans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George Aiken, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said today it is possible that South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Ky has decided to use the war on Viet Cong guerrillas as a tool to gain the work of social reconstruction in the United States.

The Vermont Republican said that such a move would have contributed to the wave of demonstrations that now threaten Ky's regime.

"Apparently things have gone rather badly since the Honolulu press conference," Aiken said in an early conference. "I don't know whether that is a coincidence. Nam Ky now presides at the head of a military government. The Honolulu declaration pledged the formation of a democratic constitution.

No one was speculating publicly about the future American course should the Ky regime topple and give way to a government that might call for U.S. military withdrawal.

More than 230,000 American fighting men are in Viet Nam now.

Senator J.W. Fulbright (Dem. Ark.), chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, would not discuss the outcome should Ky be ousted—but he said internal discord cannot be settled by an outside power.

Townsend Planning Return To England

LONDON (AP)—Peter Townsend, the handsome former airman who wooed but lost Princess Margaret, plans to return to England to live with his Belgian wife and three children.

Townsend, 51, will work for a London public relations firm beginning April 13.

Not since 1955 — two years after he met Margaret while an officer in the RAF — has he lived in London. Because Townsend was a divorcee, Buckingham Palace discouraged his romance with Margaret.

She announced that she would not marry Townsend in 1955. Five years later she was wed to Antony Armstrong-Jones, now the Earl of Snowdon.

After the romance had ended, Townsend told a reporter: "I will never return to Britain. Never."

Lifelong Schooling Ambition Of Adult Education Body

OTTAWA (CP)—A Canadian association for adult education, favoring the creation of a national office of education, following the discussion with the prime minister.

The association recommended that federal activities in adult education be expanded and coordinated with the new office.

The proposals are contained in a brief by the Canadian Association for Adult Education, presented to Prime Minister Pearson by a three-man delegation. The same document was being presented simultaneously to the 19 provincial governments.

Or, Pearson met privately with Senator Donald Cameron, director of the Basil Schools of Fine Arts and Business Management, Dr. Ruby Kidd, chairman of a United Nations commission promoting adult education, and Alan Thomas, executive director of the association.

Senator Cameron told reporters that "signs are much more favorable" for the creation of a national office of education, following the discussion with the prime minister.

Mr. Thomas said more specific proposals will be submitted to the federal government later.

He said a private foundation could offer MF's short courses and seminars on social problems, along with research facilities.

The white paper on adult education submitted to the 11 senior governments today was written by a committee of experts. It is the first of a two-year study by the federal government, a study to reach the edge of the field across Canada.

Industry, Consumer Goods Subject Of Russian 5-Year Plan

MOSCOW (CP) — Premier Alexei Kosygin has asked the for output quotas to be assigned Communist party congress to every factory and farm in the end of a new five-year plan Soviet Union.

Kosygin admitted agricultural failures during the 1959-63 plan.

The plan gives up Nikita Khrushchev's ambitious goals for surpassing the United States economy by 1970.

Published directives for the plan show that it calls for significant increases in consumer goods, but still concentrates on heavy industry.

Directives in the plan, made public in February as the eighth since 1928, cover all aspects of production—from clothing and fence expenditures. He implied power stations to ocean-going ships.

For this reason, Kosygin added, the Soviet party and government "had to increase production—from clothing and fence expenditures. He implied power stations to ocean-going ships.

Rhodesian Problem Is Britain's Headache

The weekend's incident of a British naval vessel intercepting an oil tanker carrying oil for Rhodesia has again postponed the whole Rhodesian situation and the apparent ineffectiveness of the British attempt to bring down the Smith government.

Britain can expect little help from the United States. That country has accepted the British position that Prime Minister Smith had no legal right to declare independence for Rhodesia, that his government is in rebellion against the British crown and all its acts and decisions are without legal authority.

In addition, the United States agrees with Britain that the colored majority in Rhodesia must be granted their full political rights under a new constitution. The central purpose of the Smith government is to perpetuate white minority rule to the last possible moment.

But the Johnson administration has refused to accept the extreme advice offered by its own zealous that it should urge Britain to apply sterner and harsher penalties. Economic sanctions may well be inadequate. Military force may become unavoidable. But these decisions should be made in London without prodding or pressure from Washington.

In January the British people were told by Prime Minister Wilson that the fall of the Smith government could be measured "in weeks rather than months." Things have not worked out that way. The regime in Rhodesia has been damaged but it has not been broken. Few observers predict its early collapse.

Prime Minister Wilson suffered his biggest disappointment when a white opposition to Mr. Smith failed to emerge. Sanctions did not produce an opposition. They unified the white settlers in opposition to British policy. Mr. Smith is stronger today than he was before the British applied sanctions and cut off trade and credit.

The Rhodesian pound is still backed by gold. Oil has been arriving by road and rail from South Africa. Rhodesia has been able to meet its daily oil ration of 85,000 gallons. The flow of oil has in fact been increasing. South Africa has broadened its trade with Rhodesia; so has Portugal, and Mr.

Wilson is not very convincing when he predicts a total Rhodesian collapse by the beginning of July.

There is strong evidence that South Africa has made a substantial loan to Rhodesia to enable her to stand the economic siege to which she is now exposed. South Africa is buying goods for Rhodesia and bringing them to the beleaguered country.

At the end of this month the tobacco crop, the foundation of the future Rhodesian economy, will begin to be sold. The details of this sale are being guarded in the greatest secrecy. The Rhodesian government expects to sell a significant part of this crop to private buyers prepared to defy their own governments by engaging in this forbidden trade. The rest of the crop will be bought by the Tobacco Corporation of Rhodesia, which will make advance payments to the growers even though the tobacco cannot all be sold on the world market. Mr. Smith estimates that all these measures will enable the tobacco growers to keep going for at least another year.

Meanwhile the fate of Rhodesia has become a matter of acute political controversy in Britain. However, surprisingly, it did not play as important a part in the recent British election as had been anticipated. The election result would seem to suggest the majority of the British people support Mr. Wilson's Rhodesian policy.

Still, Britain is naturally reluctant to broaden the policy of economic sanctions to include South Africa and Portugal. Such an expansion of the boycott would hurt Britain's balance of payments. It may also be necessary for Britain to ask the United Nations to make sanctions mandatory for all members against Rhodesia and any country trading with her. If all else fails, Britain may have to use military force.

The newly elected Labor government in Britain faces many major problems. Not the least of these is the Rhodesian problem. It is a problem which must be faced by Britain almost alone. Little more assistance can be expected from the United States, as the feeling there is to give the British no more help in Rhodesia than Britain is giving the United States in Vietnam.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH New York Law Simple In Concept

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

The new mental health law in New York State which I discussed yesterday is simple enough in concept. If a mental patient is all right to need hospitalization, he should be hospitalized on that basis—a medical determination of his condition.

The law, except for remote or unusual circumstances, does away with the necessity of having the courts rule that hospitalization is needed.

Therefore, it is no longer necessary for the courts to "re-store" a patient at a further hearing once he recovers. It should be kept in mind that an increasing number of mental patients, given early and intensive treatment, are capable of leaving a hospital in a short time, quite often in a matter of a few weeks.

While the New York law is simple in its aims, it took nearly four years of work by health, legal and other authorities to find a way to put into words that would accomplish what needed to be done and yet protect the civil rights of everyone.

Briefly, patients are divided into those who don't object to going to the hospital and those who do. There is a voluntary admission, when the patient is referred by a physician at a state hospital is involved. He is free to leave at any time.

A "voluntary" admission is somewhat different in that the patient must sign a formal request, and a staff physician must concur that hospitalization is needed.

For the unwilling patient, a "two-physician certificate" is required. This in addition is hedged with safeguards which I will outline in the final article tomorrow. A "two-physician certificate" also may be used when necessary but a staff physician at the hospital must also examine the patient and endorse the certification.

Finally, for emergency cases, or when a patient appears to be dangerous, he can be hospitalized unilaterally if the need is certified by a health officer, health commissioner, or some designated physician. This admission is good for only 15 days, and by that time if the patient is to be kept in the hospital, the case must be converted to one of the other categories.

A peace officer can take a person into custody if he appears to be mentally ill or is a danger to himself or others. He can take the person to a hospital and hold him for a limited time again, and the judgment of need again reverts to doctors.

The essential question is whether the person is ill enough to need hospitalization.

Tomorrow, safeguards of the patient's rights.

Dear Dr. Molner: My niece, age 12 months, was born prematurely and couldn't walk, and could hardly crawl. The doctor said it was because there was a new baby in the house and she didn't get enough attention. She has always been a poor eater and had a lot of sore throats and colds. Do you think her inability to walk is due to the new baby?—R.M.C.

I wouldn't attempt to guess. Such emotional reactions are possible. I'd give her more attention so that she feels confident, be it loved—but also have the doctor keep watching her progress.

Ancient Village May Be Norse

QUEBEC (CP)—An ancient village discovered last summer in the northern Quebec may once have been occupied by Norsemen, says Dr. Jacques Rousseau, former director of the National Museum in Ottawa.

Possibly 12 families lived there before 1500, says Dr. Rousseau, now lecturing at Laval University here.

The village was discovered by archaeologist Thomas Lee. Discovery of its exact location, in the Ungava region, has been withheld for fear of pillaging.

The essential preservation of Confederation — essential to Quebec even more than to the anglophone provinces — declared just how delicate was the situation revealed at the Quebec City Liberal convention a week ago, when delegates unilaterally called for the tearing up of the British North America Act, Canada's constitution three years, and its replacement by a new rule which would impose French on Ontario and New Brunswick as a second official language, and add to our municipal tax burden by setting up French-language schools from Atlantic to Pacific. ## OTTAWA REPORT

Let's Give Praise For P.M.'s Steering

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Despite the widespread criticism of the prime minister's belatedness, let's pay tribute to him for having steered the ship of state between the Scylla and Charybdis which are the various Liberal and Conservative scandals, without actually running aground on these man-made rocks.

There has been the greatest extension of bread-baking, first seen in Canada since Brown-Crowd traded the bear to the Crown across Niagara Falls in a wheelbarrow—and, like Mike Pearson's later feat, also on a swaying tightrope.

The prime minister leads a minority government supported in the House of Commons by 131 votes. Of these, 50 are French-Canadian, from Quebec; five others are representatives of Quebec constituencies; and nine others are French-Canadians representing constituencies outside Quebec. The prime minister governs through a Cabinet of 26 Ministers. Of these, seven are French-Canadians from Quebec, two others represent Quebec constituencies, and two others are French-Canadians elected outside Quebec.

Thus in both Cabinet and caucus, the Quebec factor very heavily exceeds the body of the dog which it wags. It is strong enough to dominate decisions, as was shown when Justice Minister Lucien Carmichael was re-elected "magnum cum laude" in the Cabinet after tendering his resignation. This happened largely because of the threats that a motion calling for the Prime Minister's resignation would be moved in caucus by Quebec back-benchers, and that five Quebec ministers would destroy the government by resigning if Carmichael went.

The essential preservation of Confederation — essential to Quebec even more than to the anglophone provinces — declared just how delicate was the situation revealed at the Quebec City Liberal convention a week ago, when delegates unilaterally called for the tearing up of the British North America Act, Canada's constitution three years, and its replacement by a new rule which would impose French on Ontario and New Brunswick as a second official language, and add to our municipal tax burden by setting up French-language schools from Atlantic to Pacific. Such steps may be widely welcomed, but should have the prior approval of other provinces concerned.

One old parliamentary hand high in the Liberal party has declared that the Pearson government is hampered by the huge Quebec bloc on its back; these, he asserts, are interested only in Quebec affairs, not Canada, and they give too little help in taking part in debates. Some Liberals see this situation as leading to the destruction of their party as a national power in Canadian politics.

But think for a moment of the hidden problems which face the Prime Minister on that tight-rope. The tension is such that even minor events become major crises, fraught with explosive danger.

Last summer, at the height of the Rivard scandal, in a small and unreported but very significant event, the Parliamentary restaurant committee recommended that wine and beer should be provided as well as food in the restaurant. When he heard of this, Mike Pearson exclaimed: "Wine and beer in the restaurant? At a time like this, that's all we need!" Parliamentarians and their guests still drink water rather than risk upsetting temperance voters.

Three weeks ago, at the height of the Manning affair, which burst upon Parliament unannounced and without prior approval by the Prime Minister, Justice Minister Carmichael gave a similarly unapproved press conference, at which he amplified his allegations against former Prime Minister Diefenbaker and some—yes, more than one—of his ministers. When he heard this, Prime Minister Pearson, in the words of one observer, "went up into the air and never came down again."

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

April 6, 1966

The Morillon Church, otherwise known as the Last-Day Saints, was founded 136 years ago today—in 1830—at Fayette, N.Y. by Joseph Smith. Unpopularity with local citizens caused a number of moves to new communities over the years, reaching Nauvoo, Ill., in 1839. The sect left Nauvoo seven years later, after Smith had been shot in a riot, and moved across the Great Plains to Utah. Morillon leaders are founded on the Book of Mormon, a document Smith claimed to have received written on plates of gold, after a series of visions in the 1820s.

Bridges Do Help

Canadians driving south have an increasing number of routes from which to choose. New bridges across the Columbia have been instrumental in cutting both time and mileage.

One of these of primary importance to Okanagan travellers is the bridge on Highway 97 at Biggs, which since its opening a year and a half ago has eliminated the slow ferry at that point of a 40-mile detour to the Dalles.

This spring another bridge over the Columbia has been opened and it perhaps provides the easiest and quickest way for Okanagan people heading for Oregon or south. There is a fast route from Brewster to Lehigh to Soap Lake to Vantage. Instead of crossing at the Vantage bridge, keep south for 20 miles to the new bridge. A new highway runs straight across the atomic energy reservation to Richland and Kennewick. From there it is a simple matter to reach McNary Dam bridge and Highway 40. This route bypasses

Wenatchee, the Blewett, Ellensburg, the tortuous route between that city and Yakima, and Yakima itself. This route is practically a water level route and eliminates both Blewett and Sumas passes.

Further west at the mouth of the Columbia another bridge is building. It is a four-and-a-half-mile long, $24,000,000 structure. It will link Astoria, Oregon and Megler, Washington, replacing a ferry which for many years has crossed the Columbia.

The treacherous river bottom and the pounding waves at the mouth of the Columbia set back the project for more than a year, but now construction is going ahead. Hitherto travellers who wanted to keep an eye on the Pacific while they hugged the coast had either to take the ancient ferry or detour inland for close to 50 miles. The new bridge will replace the tedious detour with a five-minute drive.

A scheme is being mooted to build a bathing house in the Park, which will provide some comfort for bathers, in place of the present shack. It is proposed to have a combined house, in two divisions for the two sexes. It remains to be seen whether the feelings of the community will permit mixed bathing.

CANADA'S STORY

Stamp Collectors Enjoyed Big Day

By BOB BOWMAN

This is an important day for stamp collectors, because Britain transferred control of post offices to Canada and the Maritimes on April 6, 1851. It was a sign of the times. Communications were improving rapidly. Railways were beginning to be built, and the electric telegraph had connected Montreal and Toronto with New York by way of Buffalo.

Few people used the telegraph for personal, or even business communications. It was regarded with great suspicion and in order to make it appear respectable, the telegraph company printed Biblical texts on the telegraph forms. One of the favorites was "He directeth it under the whole heaven and His lightnings unto the ends of the earth."

Canada's original postal system was organized by Benjamin Franklin when Britain took over from France in 1763. The main post office was at Quebec, with branches at Three Rivers and Montreal. Nova Scotia, which then included New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, had its own postal service, as did Newfoundland. Although P.E.I. was made a separate colony in 1769, its post office remained under the control of Halifax. New Brunswick issued its own stamps when it became a separate colony in 1781.

Co-ordination of postal services in the British North American colonies was organized by Lord Elgin after he came out as Governor General in 1847.

Nova Scotia had already appointed a special committee to suggest improvements, and Lord Elgin used its recommendations to bring the colonies together. It was one of the many factors that led to Confederation.

Canadian stamps were first issued on April 23, 1851, and letters could be sent anywhere in Canada, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, and Newfoundland for three pence. Stamps were also engraved for the first time to prevent forgery.

OTHER EVENTS ON APRIL 6:

1609 Henry Hudson, an Englishman in the service of Holland began a voyage that took him along the coast of Newfoundland.

1860 Allan Steamship Line of Montreal got contract for weekly postal service to Liverpool.

1865 General Middleton began march from Qu'Appelle to Batoche to fight rebels under Louis Riel.

1880 Vancouver incorporated as a city.

1909 Robert E. Peary reached North Pole. He had used Sydney, N.S. as a supply base for the expedition. The North Pole is considered to be on the high seas, and does not belong to any nation.

1912 Canadian forces in Britain formed into an army.

ANN LANDERS

Where Newlyweds Sleep Is Their Own Business

Dear Ann Landers: A girl friend of mine who is to be married in the Spring last week and her fiancé went shopping for furniture. They bought a bedroom set with twin beds—but only after a bitter argument.

I asked her why she insisted on twin beds when her fiancé made it plain he wanted a double bed. She said, "I have slept alone for 19 years and I just can't sleep with anyone."

Will you please tell me what is wrong with a girl who wouldn't even TRY a double bed to please her fiancé?—INTERESTED THIRD PARTY

Dear Party: What difference would it make to you if they slept on an ironing board? When it comes to beds, dearie, there is REALLY a crowd.

If this girl wrote to me I'd tell her about twin beds with a single head board, but since she hasn't asked for my advice, I'm keeping my nose out of it. I think it would be wise if you did the same.

Dear Ann Landers: A man I have been going with has a habit that embarrasses me to death.

When we dine out and the waiter brings the check this gentleman makes a big production of changing his glasses, getting out his pen and adding up the bill. If he finds a mistake he points it out to the waiter with the air of a man who has just found a bank robbery.

Is it worth the few dollars he saves? He has yet to find a mistake which gives the restaurant more and himself less! What is your opinion? Frankly I find it uncouth.—TOO CRITICAL

Dear Two: Machines make mistakes and so do people. There is nothing uncouth about adding up a bill before you pay it. If you don't check YOUR bills before you pay them, you aren't very bright.

It is not good manners, however, to make a big flap when a mistake is discovered. You could ask him to shift peddle the large art.

Dear Ann Landers: I am secretary to the sweetest, kindest boss who ever lived. His wife is a neurotic nag who drives both the boss and me crazy with her countless telephone calls.

Yesterday she phoned to tell him the egg man didn't show up, the vacuum sweeper broke down, his mother wrote an unfriendly letter, and she lost a filling from her tooth.

This morning she asked me to call him out of a conference to tell him that the garbage man didn't collect the trash and her bridge club is coming and what should she do.

I think the biggest favor I could do my boss would be to drop his wife a line and explain nicely that her frequent interruptions are a nuisance and to please call him only when it is urgent.

Will you back me up?—FED EDNA

Dear Edna: No. It is not your place to tell the boss' wife anything. When he gets fed up with her calls he'll let her know. Until then (which may be never) keep your lip zipped.

Dear Ann Landers: I just read where some so-called authority has decided a housewife is worth $150 a week. I am a married man who earns only $135 a week. This means I cannot afford to keep this wonderful woman who sleeps with me and has scorching every short I have ever owned. Thank you for making me realize that I don't deserve her. I'm leaving her out tomorrow.—STANLEY GREATHEART

Dear No Fan, Up To Here: Smaphre and Stanley: You've provided me with a full of a column and I gave you a chance to sound off—so everybody's happy.

WINE makes the difference! You have probably already decided on the Calona wine you like best with ham (and lamb) — but if you're not sure, you won't go wrong selecting from the following list:

|                |  |              |
|----------------|--|--------------|
| Sauterne       | Dry, golden white, full-bodied                       | Chilled      |
| Royal White    | Medium sweet, robust, pale golden                    | Chilled      |
| White Dry      | Medium dry, light                                    | Chilled      |
| Riesling       | Extra dry, light-bodied, classic flavour and bouquet | Chilled      |
| Still Rose     | Medium dry, light-bodied, pink                       | Chilled      |
| Crackling Rose | Medium dry, pink, sparkling                          | Well Chilled |
| Champagne      | Bubbly, gay, full-bodied                             | Well Chilled |

Program Teaches Immigrant Children To Speak English

VANCOUVER (CP) — A program set up to teach immigrant children English has proved so successful that the school board has decided to expand it to other elementary schools.

The program at Lord Nelson elementary school is taught by teacher Aleta Humphreys and has 54 children, mostly in kindergarten and Grades 1 and 2.

"Many of these children just didn't have a chance before to learn English at home and they have very little chance to learn the language if they stayed in the school that the school board has decided to expand it to other elementary schools."

KEPT NEEDS AT HAND

Members of top hats in the 19th century used them to store documents or light but pocket-bulging ornaments.

At the time, several groups began to have the project rejected or at least postponed. They argued that Vancouver was already overburdened with office space. For a time the bank almost backed off.

Now all 25 floors have been built on long-term arrangements and the first tenants have started to move in.

A Musical Drama Of Phantom Town

An interesting event taking place in the Okanagan Easter week will be the presentation of "Brigadoon" by the Light Opera Company of Penticton from April 13-16 at the Pen-Hi Auditorium.

In this musical drama of a phantom town, Tommy, the lover torn between two worlds, will be played by George Wayne, and Carol McGibney will take the part of his love, Jessie, Fiona.

Musical and dramatic producer of the musical is Millard Foster and the choreography is by Gwenneth Lloyd of the Canadian School of Ballet. The music of "Brigadoon" is already well known to most of you, one of the funniest songs being "My Mother's Wedding Day" which relates to the deaths of one of the most sophisticated wedding parties ever known.

All seats will be reserved, so if you are planning to drive to Penticton and enjoy the musical, best write ahead for reservations to Loop 100, Jermain Ave.

Superb Swiss Sauce

When vegetables need parking up in a hurry, make a delicious Swiss sauce. You'll need an 8-ounce package of processed Swiss cheese slices (Canadian-made of course) and 1 cup milk. Heat together in a double boiler, stirring occasionally until the cheese melts and the sauce is smooth. Add a dash of Worcestershire sauce and Tabasco sauce and there you have it!

Casseroles Capers

Speaking of sauces, that wonderful standby, cream sauce, is made for chicken and asparagus this time of year. For 6 servings, use 2 cups each of sliced cooked asparagus, cooked chicken and smooth cream sauce. Layer in a 2-quart casserole, starting with the asparagus and ending with sauce. Sprinkle generously with Canadian cheddar cheese, top with buttered bread crumbs and bake in a 350°F oven about 30 minutes. Add tossed salad and your main course is complete.

Cream Soup Special

Milk adds extra goodness to canned soups. Take potato soup for a starter. To one can, add 1 1/2 cups milk and 1 cup mashed cooked cauliflower. Simmer gently for a few minutes and sprinkle with paprika before taking to the table. Tastes as if you spent hours making it.

Prettier Jellied Salads

There's nothing like a sparkling white layer made with milk to accompany a fruited layer of strawberry, red or lime green jelly. Begin by softening an envelope of unflavored gelatin in 1/2 cup cold milk, dissolve in 1/2 cup hot milk adding 1 tablespoon sugar and a little vanilla or almond flavoring. Chill until slightly thickened, stir in 1 cup coconut and pour into a large mold. Chill until firm. Now add your favorite fruit salad mixture and refrigerate until the second layer is set.

Auto Industry Accepts Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. automobile industry endorsed Tuesday most of President Johnson's highway safety legislation but urged that it be rather than the government be given primary responsibility for car safety standards.

John S. Bugas, vice-president of the Ford Motor Company, said in testimony prepared for a Senate commerce committee hearing that the industry is in favor of all of the major parts of the $100,000,000 six-year program except for the section under which the commerce secretary would have discretionary authority to establish motor vehicle safety standards.

Bugas, chairman of the Automobile Manufacturers Association's safety administrative committee, said the section would give the secretary "virtually unlimited power to establish safety standards affecting the design and development of motor vehicles."

As an alternative, Bugas proposed a three-point program which he said would bring into effect a partnership of the federal government, the state governments and the auto industry for moving ahead immediately to improve traffic safety.

The industry proposal as he outlined it called for:

1. A commitment by the four major automobile manufacturers to cooperate in a voluntary program to improve the safety design of vehicles as rapidly as feasible.
2. The strengthening of the government's role in vehicle safety standards through a joint federal-state program that would include participation in and support for the vehicle equipment safety commission which now represents 44 states and the District of Columbia.
3. Frequent reporting on the industry's safety progress by the auto-makers to the U.S. Congress, the commerce secre-

Soviet Subs Claim Record

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Admiral Sergey Gromkov, commander-in-chief of the Soviet navy, says in an article in the Communist party paper Pravda that Soviet nuclear submarines completed an underwater voyage of about 21,800 miles without once coming to the surface.

He says the submarines were armed with rockets capable of hitting targets on land or at sea thousands of miles away and with torpedoes which could be fitted with nuclear warheads.

The underwater voyage around the world by the submarines compared well with a similar trip by the U.S. submarine Triton, the newspaper Red Star says.

Describing the latest feat by Soviet submarines, the defence ministry daily says while the Triton was never far from an American base, the Russian vessels were often far from any friendly port.

If a sailor fell ill aboard the Triton an American cruiser could always appear alongside and take him off, it says.

But "The Soviet submarines had to sail in regions where there were not only no Soviet bases and harbors but which our naval vessels do not visit at the present time."

Red Star says the distance covered under water by Triton and the Soviet submarines was much the same, but "a voyage by a group of (Soviet) boats cannot be compared with the voyage of a single (U.S.) atomic vessel."

It does not say how many Soviet submarines took part in the exercise.

NO MORE MONEY, THANK YOU SAYS HIKING CLUB WORKER

LONDON (AP) — Thomas Stephenson, 73, said today if his employers gave him more money he will resign.

"I just don't want a raise," said Stephenson. "I like the work. I'm very happy doing it. Furthermore, I don't need any more money."

Stephenson, a former newspaper man, earns £1,250 ($3,150) a year as secretary of the national council of the Ramblers' Association.

Friends say he also has a pension from a London newspaper and an old age pension from the government.

The Ramblers' an organization dedicated to hiking, has more than 11,000 members in Britain. During the weekend the national council's delegate conference met in Nottingham and asked Stephenson to accept a bigger salary.

"No, thank you," said Stephenson.

Symbolic Traffic Experiment Working In Ontario City

HAMILTON (CP) — Pedestrians here have responded well to an experimental traffic signal in which the lighted figure of a walking man tells them it's all right to cross and the outline of a hand says it isn't.

The traffic department installed the symbol-type signals at King and MacNab streets as part of a national study conducted by the Council on Uniform Traffic Control Devices for Canada. Similar signals have been installed on an experimental basis in nine other major cities.

Instead of a green signal reading "Walk," there is the figure of a walking man colored in green and outlined in white. Replacing the "Don't Walk" signal is a hand with an orange glow that lights up. It flashes for 15 seconds, warning pedestrians not to start across but allowing those in the street to complete their crossing. Then it stays lighted until the signals change.

Purpose of the flashing hand is to clear up confusion surrounding the present "Don't Walk" signal. Some pedestrians get part way across the road, see the "Don't Walk" sign light up and aren't sure whether to continue or go back.

Of 270 pedestrians interviewed by the traffic department, 244 knew the meaning of the walking man, 221 knew the meaning of the flashing hand and 238 knew the meaning of the steady hand.

Officials of the department who were dubious about the new signals say the number of correct answers was higher than expected. Their only reservation is that the walking man appears to be moving at right angles to the pedestrian flow.

More Wheat For Red China

OITAWA (CP) — The sale of 50,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat to Communist China under an enlarged long-term agreement has been made by the Canadian Wheat Board. Finance Minister Sharp told the Commons Tuesday.

Mr. Sharp tabled in the Commons a press release by the board announcing that a long-term agreement signed last year has been altered to permit a maximum sale during the three-year period starting Aug. 1 this year of 200,000,000 bushels worth about $550,000,000.

Tornadoes Rip Across Florida - At Least Nine Persons Dead

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Tornadoes spawned in a severe weather system that thrashed across central Florida Monday, leaving a trail of destruction from the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic.

At least nine were dead, more than 300 were injured, several were missing, and hundreds of homes, houses, trailers and businesses were destroyed. National guardsmen were on duty through the night, searching wreckage for additional bodies and guard against looting.

The Red Cross said the hardest hit area was around Gibsons, north of Lakeland, where a preliminary survey showed at least 200 homes were destroyed or damaged. There was heavy damage all around Lakeland, a city of 10,000, at Auburndale, Davenport, Haines City and Winter Haven.

Striking first at the St. Petersburg-Clearwater area about 8 a.m., the howling winds next hit Tampa, second largest city in the state with 275,000, then moved on to Lakeland in the northern part of citrus-rich Polk County.

The two twisters moved south of Orlando and went into the Atlantic just south of the Kennedy space center at Cape Kennedy.

West of Gibsons, another 32 homes were destroyed. Twenty-two trailers were destroyed at a trailer park south of Polk City. A 150-mile path of destruction in an area southwest of Lakeland, and serious damage was inflicted by tornado winds on at least 30 homes in southeast Lakeland.

At the big missile center, there was only slight damage. Three workers received minor injuries and launching of the orbital astronomical observatory was postponed.

At Cocoa, which adjoins Cape Kennedy, the Red Cross said 133 persons received hospital treatment. Fifty trailers were destroyed and 75 to 100 damaged, along with 25 homes and a shopping centre.

Some citrus groves in the Lakeland area were destroyed as winds stripped the trees and left the ground yellow with fruit. However, Robert W. Rutledge, executive vice-president of Florida Citrus Mutual, said the loss would be minor.

At least 10,000 homes in the Tampa-Lakeland area were without telephone service and 22,000 Tampa homes had no electricity. Many other areas were similarly affected.

Opening lead—jack of diamonds.

This hand occurred in the match between Australia and the United States during the World Bridge Olympiad played in New York in 1964.

When the American South pair played the hand, they reached three notrump and made five after South had had a club, North a diamond, South two clubs, and North three notrump.

The Australian North-South pair were more ambitious and arrived at six clubs on the bid.

ing shown. The bidding may seem peculiar—particularly North's response of one notrump—but it was consistent with the special methods of the Australian pair by which the notrump response showed at least a game-going hand.

Had West had a heart, South would not have been glib with Nvay even, he made the more natural lead of a diamond.

This gave declarer a chance to make the slam, but, unfortunately, he was so overjoyed by the favorite lead that he neglected to take certain necessary precautions and found up going down one.

After winning the diamond with the ace, he led the ten of clubs to which West followed low. Declarer could not now afford the luxury of a finesse because he was afraid that East would win the club and lead a heart. So he went up with the ace, East showing out, and eventually went down one after discarding the K-3 of hearts on the K-Q of diamonds.

What South should have done was enter dummy at trick two with a spade in order to discard his hearts on the diamonds. He could then ruff a heart and next lead a club, planning to finesse if West played low.

This safety play, coming at a more appropriate moment, would have succeeded in the actual hand and South would have scored the slam as a result. It would seem that South's impetuosity got the best of him.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Excellent stellar influences should now bring great happiness to those who are married, as well as fostering new romances among the single. Also, under a beneficent Venus aspect, are artistic and cultural pursuits, the aspirations and endeavors of those in the entertainment field.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that this new year in your life should be a happy and progressive one. As of the first of January, you entered a generous planetary cycle and if, since then, you have cooperated with its offerings, your affairs, both material and of a personal nature, should be bringing a large measure of contentment. Even if all things have not turned out quite as you expected, however, stars promise still more chances to advance your status on all fronts.

Where finances are concerned, for instance, you can expect a good period for gain during the two weeks between April 20th and May 3rd; another during the last two weeks in July; and even better ones during September 15th and October 8th, and between October 8th and November 15th. Consolidate monetary assets.

Along personal lines: Most propitious periods for romance will occur next week and throughout August and January, but happiness in this department of your life should be fairly constant for most of the year. Dates for travelling can best be planned for mid-June, the last two weeks in August, early September and the weeks between December 15th and January 15th.

A child born on this day will be idealistic and unusually original in thought and deed; will also have a great love of the consolate monetary arts.

TRY AND STOP ME

CORRESPONDENT Anthony Carthage sends this story from Saigon to illustrate the difficulties American soldiers have in trying to understand the customs and reactions of native South Vietnamese.

A husky South Carolina sergeant was haggling one morning with an 80-year-old Vietnamese woman over the purchase of a parrot in a cage. She kept assuring the sergeant, "Good bird! Lotta words." But soon the sergeant discovered the awful truth. The parrot couldn't speak one word of English. The obviously disappointed homesick sergeant walked off muttering, "A parrot who speaks nothing but Vietnamese ain't no good to me. How'm I gonna talk to a bird who don't speak English?"

From Henny Youngman's "How Do You Like Me So Far?"

1. A man falls out of an eighth-story window. He's lying moaning on the pavement when a policeman shows his way into the crowd and asks him, "What happened?" The man answers, respectfully, "I don't know. I just got here."

2. An elderly gent, after a complete checkup, is told by his doctor, "You're sound as a dollar. You'll live to be ninety." "But I am ninety," splutters the gent. "See?" begins the doctor, "What did I tell you?"

—Oscar Levant, unowned King of Hypochondria, describes death as "nature's way of warning you to slow down."

Commercial Fishing Union Alarmed At B.C. Decline

OTTAWA (CP)—An expanded fish culture program is urgently needed to arrest the declining salmon catch in British Columbia, the Commons Fisheries Committee was told today.

Homer Stevens, secretary-treasurer of Vancouver, secretary of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (UFAW), estimated it will take an expenditure of $10,000,000 a year, five times the present outlay, to reverse the trend and begin rebuilding salmon runs.

Forestry, mining and pollution were having severe effects on the salmon rivers. Work on artificial spawning grounds and rearing stations should be speeded to compensate for the losses.

Mr. Stevens said the salmon catch has dropped by one-third in recent years. The 1965 catch was only half early 1950s rates. B.C. fishermen were also concerned about declining habitat and herring catches.

He said Ottawa should encourage the development of larger and more efficient fishing vessels to compete with Russian and Japanese factory fleets now operating along the West Coast. It was estimated these fleets were taking 2,000,000,000 pounds of groundfish a year compared to a Canadian catch of 60,000,000 pounds.

SUGGESTS STUDY

Mr. Stevens said the fisheries department should also study ways to exploit species of groundfish that are not being taken commercially by Canada. Norway and established markets in Britain and West Germany for dogfish, considered a nuisance by B.C. fishermen.

Subsidies might be needed until markets for such fish were established.

Old Man Of The Atlantic Watches Bluenose Sail Again

HALIFAX (CP)—An 85-year-old retired sea captain who saw the wreck of the schooner Bluenose on a rocky Maine shore in 1946 watched a faithful copy of the famed fishing and racing vessel sail out of Halifax Harbor in mid-January bound for the Caribbean.

Capt. C. B. Mason of Pleasantville, N.S., stood on the shore of this city's Point Pleasant Park and saw Bluenose II tack down harbor in full sail.

"I believe I could still go aloft and take in a tonard, I'm sure I could," he said.

The veteran of 56 years at sea had inspected the new Bluenose just two hours before she cast off her mooring lines and headed into open water and a cruise to the Caribbean.

He scrambled through the hatchway to go below with almost as much agility as he probably showed as an 11-year-old boy in his first summer at sea aboard a fishing schooner out of one of Nova Scotia's south shore ports.

In an interview in a luxuriously-appointed room of the Bluenose II, owned by Oland and Son Ltd., Maritime brewers, Capt. Mason recalled the last time he saw the original Bluenose "with tears in my eyes."

He was skipper of the motor vessel Kent County, out of Miami and bound for Haiti when he was called on deck to see the battered hull of the Nova Scotia schooner that had run aground about three weeks earlier.

"Tears came to my eyes to see such a famous ship lying there on the shore. She should have never been allowed to leave Nova Scotia."

The Bluenose, winner of many international races and renowned as the fastest vessel on the fishing banks, was sold during the Second World War to end her days as a dreary, diesel-powered coastal freighter in southern waters.

Capt. Mason served aboard the Bluenose under skipper Capt. Angus Walters during most of the craft's racing days in Gloucester, Mass., schooner and was a crew member when the vessel was featured at Bristol's Diamond Jubilee celebrations in 1955.

Capt. Mason said the Bluenose, now pictured on the Canadian 10-cent postage stamp, should have been kept in Nova Scotia to preserve the distinguished record of the three-masted fisherman.

New Home Recipe Reducing Plan

It's simple how quickly one may lose pounds of unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this home recipe yourself. It's easy, no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of Naran Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Take two tablespoons full a day as needed and follow the Naran Plan.

If your first purchase does not show you a simple easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender more graceful curves, if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't disappear from neck, chin, arms, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow this easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back slender curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bulk disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Canine Sleuth Takes Reward

LONDON (AP)—Pickles, the mongrel dog that found soccer's stolen World Cup, got a reward of £3,000 ($9,000) Tuesday.

His owner, David Corbett, 26, Thames River lighterman, racked up a cheque from a London firm of loss adjusters. Another £3,000 in rewards was promised by other groups.

Pickles snuffed out the gold trophy, wrapped in newspapers, in a corner of his garden nine days ago. That was eight days after the Statuette had been stolen from a London exhibition. It was insured for £30,000 ($90,000).

The pay-out signalled final victory for Corbett, who had to compete for the reward against Joe Meers, of Ipswich of the English Football Association.

The bid of the stolen trophy was sent to Meers in the mail. He reported it to police.

When Pickles found the cup, Meers contended that but for his snuff, the thief would never have dumped it in Corbett's garden. So he claimed the reward.

The loss adjusters, Tofts and Harding, ruled against Meers, claiming that left Pickles and his owner a clear winner.

Edward Blatchley, 47, a dock labourer charged with stealing it, was remanded in court Monday.

Aussies Get Tough Policy Pleases American Leader

MELBOURNE (CP)—When Vice-President Hubert Humphrey of the United States was in Australia in February, he was overheard to say, "You have a lot of hawks here."

He had been surprised at the enthusiasm among Australian government leaders for a hard line on the Viet Nam war.

But the reasoning of these men in Canberra is simple: The longer the war goes on, the longer U.S. military forces will stay in Southeast Asia and the safer Australians will feel. But if peace came to Viet Nam, or if, through lack of allied support, the U.S. became disillusioned with the war and sent its forces home, then Australia would feel isolated and unprotected against a hostile Asia.

The war with Japan made Australians realize the country's strategic future lay not with Mother Britain but with Uncle Sam. Recent events, with Britain trying to contract out of its east-of-Suez commitments, have confirmed this.

This desperate desire to keep well in with the Americans is what is behind Australia's decision to trouble the north Vietnamese troops in Viet Nam—to a degree that has never been compared with the scale of the war but it means a lot to Australia. It is the absolute maximum the country can send and, in fact, military commentators are saying it will seriously over-stretch resources.

SERVE PART TIME

Australia has an army of only 30,000 full-time soldiers, with 30,000 more in the reserves' military force—part-time soldiers.

With increased conscription, the full-time army will be up to 51,500 men by the year's end. This army is made up of seven battalions, and three of them will be in Viet Nam by June. One Canberra newspaper's defence correspondent estimated that Australia's Viet Nam force will represent 60 per cent of the nation's trained combat troops.

Of those 4,500 bound for Viet Nam, more than 800 will be conscripts. This is the first time Australia has ever sent conscripts to fight overseas. It is a most sensitive issue among Australians. A public opinion poll shows that 48 per cent agree with the government's decision to send more troops to Viet Nam. 55 per cent are opposed and 17 per cent undecided. But when the question was asked, "Should conscripts be sent to Viet Nam?" 87 per cent said "No."

But without these conscripts the government would be in a hopeless position in trying to put into action its verbal support for U.S. policies in South-east Asia. It just cannot get enough volunteers for the armed forces.
